The Pentecost Collection for Seminarians

The Pentecost Collection for Seminarians supports the formation and training of seminarians in the Archdiocese of Boston for service, we pray, as your future priests.

Boston is blessed with three local seminaries: Pope Saint John XXIII National Seminary in Weston, Saint John’s Seminary in Brighton, and Redemptoris Mater Seminary in Chestnut Hill. These institutions rely upon the generosity of all parishioners within the Archdiocese of Boston to continue the important work of priestly formation, and to help meet our annual operating budgets. The occasion of this collection provides a good opportunity to encourage vocations for the priesthood and for religious life.

In all parishes on May 15

We invite you to learn more and to see the faces of the men you are supporting at www.VocationsBoston.org.
